Granite

It would be easy to assume that Granite is exclusively dedicated to residential applications but that is not the case! Natural stone can be used for various applications from countertops, walls and floors of commercial, industrial, retail and other business uses.. Granite is highly polished, highly scratch resistant and highly heat resistant, solid and strong. Available in 20mm and 30mm thicknesses. Joins in a granite work surface are visible but are clean, tidy and minimal.

We offer a wide selection of engineered quartz stone which generally comprise of approximately 93% natural quartz. Combined with its diverse practical and durable qualities. All the quartz materials we offer come with a 10 to 15 year warranty. They have a high stain, scratch and impact resistance. Most brands of quartz are available in 12, 20 and 30mm thicknesses. Solid Surface

The majority of Solid Surface colours are advanced composites of aluminium-tri-hydrate (a stone waste product from the aluminium industry), pigments and acrylic resins, the flexibility, functionality and durability a designer and architects dream. This product gives you the ability to have seamless work surfaces. In turn this makes for an incredibly hygienic work surface choice, There are no size or thickness restrictions and with the ability to re polish the surface this makes for another perfect work surface option.
